April Fool's Day Vocabulary Lesson

Prestwick House, Inc. ©2016

Objectives: To get a good laugh Time: 10-15 minutes

Materials: Handout: Vocabulary Lesson Word List Handout: Vocabulary Lesson Word Search

Procedure: This Friday is April Fool's Day, so we thought we'd help you set up your students with a fake vocabulary lesson that you can use as a warm up or bell ringer. The prank has two parts. The first is a vocabulary list of increasingly ridiculous fake words and the second is a word search which doesn't include any of the words from the word list. We hope you and your students get a good laugh out of this one. For best results, you could try a classic, obvious April Fool's Day Joke, like turning your desk around backwards, to put your students off guard.

1. Handout both worksheets to students.

2. Introduce the lesson as an extra vocabulary activity full of challenging words that a recent survey shows that 90% of Graduating Seniors were unable to define.

3. Ask for volunteers or assign students to read the vocabulary word, definition, and sample sentences.

Some of these words are nearly impossible to pronounce. Try to keep a straight face and help your students work their way through the pronunciations. As an alternative, you could break your students into small groups and ask them to work review the words among themselves—this might keep the joke going a few minutes longer.

4. Ask your students to find the vocabulary words in the associated word search.

None of these words appear in the word search. The only words that your students should find are "APRIL FOOLS"

5. Enjoy the rest of your April Fool's Day—keep an eye out for a revenge plot!
