A Short Summary of Tim O'Brien's Life

Tim O'Brien, (born 1946), is credited with writing the essential fictional book about Vietnam. The Things They Carried is the winner of France's prestigious Prix du Meilleur Livre Etranger and the Chicago Tribune Heartland Prize; it was also a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Critics Circle Award. O'Brien was raised in small-town Minnesota; his father was an insurance salesman, and his mother was an elementary school teacher. He served as an infantryman in the Quang Ngai province from 1969-70. Many stories had been published by the time he returned home. In 1973, he published If I Die in a Combat Zone and began working for the Washington Post. After a year with the Post, he began writing books. His other titles include Going After Cacciato, In the Lake of the Woods, The Nuclear Age, and many other short stories and articles.

Note to teachers: There is strong language and very gory, graphic scenes in this novel. Due to the subject matter, the Vietnam War, the language and detail is necessary to depict the emotion and confusion the soldiers must have felt during such a painful period. The language, wartime, violence, and gore should be discussed before beginning the book.

All references come from the Broadway Books edition of The Things They Carried, copyright 1990.
