A Tale of Two Cities

Notes

This historical novel, which takes place at the time of the French Revolution, presents the French Revolution as the natural or fated consequence of the social ills of the times. The growing poverty in which the masses of people lived and the oppression they suffered at the hands of the aristocracy were the proximate causes for the civil unrest that led to the French Revolution.

Keeping in mind that Dickens originally wrote the novel for a weekly publication, notice how he maintains the suspense and interest of his readers by providing cliff-hangers at the end of many chapters. Note the first and last lines in the novel, too; no other novel in English has an opening and closing as well known as the first and last lines of A Tale of Two Cities.

All references come from the Prestwick House Literary Touchstone Classic edition of A Tale of Two Cities, copyright 2005.

Objectives

By the end of this Unit, the student will be able to:

1. describe parallelism in Dickens’ style and identify examples of it in the novel.
2. discuss the extent to which this novel meets the four criteria for an historical novel.
3. relate incidents in the story which illustrate the author’s views on the following:
   - capital punishment
   - the horrors of prisons
   - the dangers of mob rule
   - the ideal woman
   - horrible ways to die.
4. cite events from the novel to support that Dickens believes in fate and show that the events in the protagonist’s life (Darnay’s) are inevitable consequences resulting from the tide of history.
5. explain how the author uses foreshadowing to heighten suspense and create interest in the following ways:
   - using imagery to set the mood for the action to come
   - suggestively titling each chapter
   - including cliff-hangers to end many of the chapters.
6. recognize the difference between third-person and first-person narration and indicate when the point of view changes.
7. identify the author’s use of personification and discuss how he employs it to touch the emotions of the reader.
8. trace the development of the major theme in this story, rebirth through sacrifice, as it applies to:
   - Dr. Manette
   - Sydney Carton
   - Charles Darnay.

Questions for Essay and Discussion

1. Considering that the book was written in installments for weekly publication, discuss how Dickens used chapter titles, foreshadowing, and cliff-hanger endings to maintain interest in his story each week.

2. Write a brief character sketch of Madame Defarge. Do you think she is justified in wanting Lucie and her family executed?

3. Why does Monsieur Defarge sympathize with Dr. Manette and his family?

4. Cite incidents in the novel to support this theme: As a force of nature, love is stronger than hate.

5. How does the phrase “recalled to life” impact the life of Jerry Cruncher?

6. Support or refute the following statement: Mr. Lorry is a consummate businessman and a loyal friend.

7. Contrast the characters Sydney Carton and Mr. Stryver. Which do you find more interesting?

8. In what ways may Darnay be said to be a man with a strong social conscience?

9. Do you think Lucie Manette had any power to help Carton mend his wasteful ways?

10. What epithet is used to describe each of the following characters: Madame Defarge, Mr. Lorry, Lucie, Dr. Manette, Miss Pross, and Jerry Cruncher?

11. When and why does Dr. Manette retreat from this life and begin making shoes again?

12. Define symbolism and explain the meanings of the following symbols in the novel: the color red, water, and Lucie’s hair.

13. What were the proximate causes given in this book for the French Revolution?

14. What is Dickens’ opinion of capital punishment?

15. Refer to the text to support or refute the following statement: Dickens is sympathetic to the plight of the French peasants but is opposed to mob rule.

16. Discuss the three examples of the existence of doubles in this novel. How do they add suspense and interest to the story?
